REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

Production of a printed publication marking the 40th anniversary of the founding of the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation

PROPOSAL DEADLINE: July 31, 2022

OVERVIEW

The National Fish and Wildlife Foundation (NFWF) is seeking proposals from a third-party (contractor) to produce a publication marking the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Foundation in 1984. The contractor will be responsible for project planning, creative presentation and iteration, writing, design, production and management of printing services. NFWF retains final authority over all aspects and costs related to project, including editorial production and content, imagery and printing.

This contractor will work closely with, and take direction from, NFWF representatives, led by Creative Director Matt Winter. The contractor will lead the project through the creative and production processes needed to produce a beautiful and compelling hard-cover book (eg “coffee table book”) that uses text, design, graphics and photography to tell the story of NFWF, which since 1984 has grown to become the nation’s largest private conservation grant-maker.

Size of the book, number of copies, narrative structure, design standards and other creative elements are not set – the contractor will serve an essential role in leading conversations with NFWF staff, developing potential approaches and informing final decisions made by NFWF.

- Final delivery of the printed, hard-cover publication (“coffee table book”) and any associated products is expected no later than Jan. 1, 2024
- Tentative number of copies: 1,500
- Format, paper stock, etc TBD, based on creative brief from contractor
- Page count TBD, based on creative brief from contractor
- Number of stakeholder meetings, expected drafts and revisions TBD, based on advice from contractor
- Design and narrative approach TBD, based on creative brief from contractor
- Any additional creative ideas will be welcomed (potential digital version, new techniques in printing, etc)
- Final budget TBD, based on creative brief from contractor.

Examples of potential areas of narrative focus include, but are not limited to:

- Founding, evolution and growth of the organization
- Advancements in the science and practice of conservation over the past four decades
- Challenges and success stories related to specific wildlife species and NFWF investments
- Importance of public-private partnerships in conservation
- Conservation and people – how investments have benefit communities and cultures across the nation
- Looking ahead

BACKGROUND

Since its creation by Congress in 1984, NFWF has grown to become the nation's largest private conservation grant-maker. The Foundation works with both the public and private sectors to protect and restore the nation's fish, wildlife, plants and habitats for current and future generations.

NFWF supports conservation efforts in all 50 states and U.S. territories. Our projects – more than 20,400 since our founding – are rigorously evaluated and awarded to some of the nation's largest environmental organizations, as well as some of the smallest. We neither advocate nor litigate. Instead, NFWF focuses on bringing all parties to the table, getting results, and building a better future for our world. Financial commitments to our conservation mission since our founding now reach $7.4 billion.

NFWF specializes in bringing all parties to the table – individuals, government agencies, nonprofit organizations and corporations. Together, we protect and restore imperiled species, promote healthy oceans and estuaries, improve working landscapes for wildlife, advance sustainable fisheries and conserve water for wildlife and people. NFWF currently works with 15 federal partners and more than 53 corporate and foundation partners.

The Foundation's IDEA (Impact-Directed Environmental Accounts) department manages a nationwide portfolio of accounts arising from legal and regulatory actions involving natural resources and the environment. The portfolio consists of several hundred distinct accounts reflecting underlying proceedings at the federal, state and local levels. Most IDEA accounts are established to manage funds arising from the settlement of enforcement actions involving natural resources and the environment or funds arising in connection with permit-required mitigation for environmental impacts.

NFWF is an independent 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. We are governed by a 30-member Board of Directors approved by the Secretary of the Interior.
